Mrs. Twist, No. 18 Avenue D, says she has been troubled with worms for more than a year, and that she took one bottle of Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., which brought away from her over three hundred worms, big and little. She now believes herself to be entirely free from disease.

Messrs. D. & J. W. Colton of Winchester, Ind., happened last spring to get some of Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge. After selling a few bottles, he demand became so great for it that their stock was soon exhausted. They state that it has produced the best effect wherever used, and is very popular among the people.

Andrew Downing, of Cranburgh township, Venango county, gave his child one teaspoonful of Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge and she passed 177 worms. Next morning, on repetition of the dose, she passed 13 more.

Jonathan Houghman, of West Union Park, county, Iowa, writes that that he is unable to supply the demand, as the people in his neighborhood say, after a trial of the others, that none is equal to Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lungs as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle, when, to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Marine hospital bureau is informed that smallpox still prevails at Trieste, Austria. It has as yet received no confirmation of reports that cholera prevails in Spain. On the contrary, the bureau has received emphatic denials of the reports. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases into this country. Quarantine stations at Ship island and Sapelo sound are already in operation and those at Cape Charles and Delaware breakwater will be open May 1. The secretary of the treasury has given orders for the immediate repair of the revenue steamer Manhattan, now at Baltimore, with a view of utilizing it as a quarantine boat at the Cape Charles station.

KEILEY CHANGED FROM ITALY TO RUSSIA.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The National Republican will contain to-morrow the following dispatch from Richmond, Virginia, dated April 24: "Hon. A. M. Keiley, minister to Italy, left here to-night for Washington, and his family left here to-day for New York by the Old Dominion steamship line. It was Mr. Keiley's purpose to sail from New York to Havre in the steamer Normandie Wednesday next, but to-morrow Mr. Keiley will resign his position as minister to Rome and will then be appointed minister plenipotentiary to Russia in place of Mr. Lawton of Georgia." Secretary Bayard, on being shown this dispatch, said he knew nothing about it.

COMMISSIONS SIGNED.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The president has signed the commissions of all the collectors of internal revenue appointed since the adjournment of congress, including that of Eben F. Pillsbury as collector of the third district of Massachusetts, over which there was said to be some dispute. No further action has been taken in the case of Collector Craig of Virginia, who declined to resign at the request of the secretary of the treasury. It has been referred to the president, and it is understood he will order the suspension of Mr. Craig.

SPECIAL AGENTS FOR THE SEAL ISLANDS.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The secretary of the treasury to-day appointed George T. Tingle of Montana and Charles Ryan of Indiana special agents for the Seal islands in Alaska, vice H. A. Glidden and J. H. Moulton, suspended. Mr. Tingle's compensation is fixed at the rate of $10 per day and Mr. Ryan's at the rate of $8 per day and expenses. They will leave San Francisco May 10 for Seal islands. There are no charges against the present incumbents.

CLEARING UP THE WORK.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The secretary of the treasury to-day detailed three clerks to the second comptroller's office to assist in the settlement of accounts, particularly those of pension agents, which are somewhat in arrears. Arrangements have also been made for more prompt examination of these accounts in the third auditor's office. It is expected the vacancy in the office of the third auditor, caused by the voluntary retirement of Judge Knightly, will be filled in a few days, probably to-morrow.

JOUETT'S SENTENCE SUSTAINED.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The findings and sentence of the court martial in the case of First Lieut. James S. Jouett, Tenth cavalry, who was charged with irregularities in the accounts of the post at San Antonio, of which he was in command, have been approved by the president. The charge was sustained and the court recommended dismissal. Lieut. Jouett is a son of Rear Admiral Jouett, who commands the north Atlantic station.

ASKED TO REMAIN.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Attorney General Garland has requested Solicitor General Phillips to remain in office during the present term of the United States supreme court, which will not be closed until May 1. Judge Phillips sent in his resignation March 1.

REFUSES TO INTERFERE.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President Cleveland has refused to exercise the power of executive clemency in regard to the sentence of General Swaim, judge advocate general.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The president to-day appointed Cornelius Schenck of Oregon to be appraiser of merchandise in the district of Willamette, Oregon.

LOOKING AT THE BOOKS.

The Treasury Inquiry Commission Making a Thorough Examination

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The treasury inquiry commission, of which Assistant Secretary Fairchild is president, has virtually concluded its inspection of the internal revenue bureau. The commission examined the deputy commissioners, chief clerk and the chiefs of all the divisions of the bureau. The secretary and the accountant of the commission are now examining the books and accounts of the different divisions and making a thorough investigation of the method of doing business in the bureau. It is expected that this portion of the work will be completed in a few days. The commission will then be in possession of all the data necessary for the preparation of their report to the secretary. The result of the work of the commission in the internal bureau is awaited with much interest, as it is supposed to give indication of the policy to be observed in reorganization of the other bureaus of the treasury department. The commission has virtually decided to make its recommendations in regard to improving the methods of business and the reductions of the force at the close of their investigations in each bureau, before beginning work in another. It is expected that the commission will investigate the affairs of the sixth auditor's office as soon as the secretary shall have acted on their report on the internal revenue bureau. It is also likely that the commission will conclude to recommend a transfer of clerks from the over crowded bureaus to bureaus where clerical force is too small, instead of dismissing superfluous clerks in one bureau and supplying another bureau with clerks certified by the civil service commission. It is believed, however, that the commission will report the number of clerks as being on the whole in excess of the needs of the service.

THE SHARON DIVORCE CASE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—In the case of Sharon against Hill, now in course of trial before United States Judge Sawyer, to declare the alleged marriage contract void, Expert A. M. Piper has testified that in his opinion the signature of Sharon to the document was written by Mr. Campbell. This conclusion he arrived at after careful examination of several specimens of Sharon's signature written by Campbell. During the trial of the Sharon divorce case Campbell on several occasions imitated Sharon's signature in order to demonstrate how easily it might be counterfeited. In the course of the divorce trial he also testified that Sharon's signature to the marriage contract was genuine.

IDAHO

THE LEWISTON MURDER MYSTERY.

LEWISTON, Idaho, April 24.—The killing of Brazil and Flinn is involved in mystery. The sheriff, coroner and others visited the scene yesterday. The killing was committed on Brazil's ranch at the head of Ten Mile creek, fifteen miles south of Lewiston, near the reservation line. The bodies were found 100 feet distant from the cabin. Brazil was shot in two places, through the heart and shoulder. Flinn was shot squarely through the forehead. The bodies were twenty feet apart. One pistol was found near the bodies, with only one empty chamber. An inspection of the cabin showed that the table was laid for dinner. Everything was cooked, and there was a pan of bread on the floor. Both men have been near neighbors for ten years, and were well known here as peaceable citizens. Much excitement exists, and there are various theories. An inquest will be held when the bodies arrive this afternoon.

A SECRET ORGANIZATION FEARED.

VICTORIA, April 24.—The town was found placarded this morning with notices: "The Chinese must go. Down with the Bosses. We know who they are," etc. The police removed the placards at an early hour. Some anxiety is felt, as there are rumors of a secret organization.

THE CITY OF MEXICO AFFAIR.

Examination of the Captain for Aiding the Colombia Rebels.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The examination in the case of Captain John O'Brien of the Provincial steamship company's steamer City of Mexico, who was arrested yesterday for violating the neutrality laws by delivering munitions of war to rebels against the government of the United States of Colombia at the port of Savanilla, began to-day before the United States commissioner.

John C. Austin, of Austin & Ford, brokers of the City of Mexico, was examined. He said the steamer was chartered by Perez & Williams of this city to carry a cargo, including arms, to correspondents of theirs in Savanilla. Witness did not know there was an actual insurrection going on and hostilities occurring between the government and insurgents in the United States of Colombia. He thought it was a dispute between parties, something like a fight between democrats and republicans in New York. The men who boarded the steamer at Savanilla, and proceeded to Rio Hacha, were passengers, he said, and his account of the episode at Rio Hacha was that the Colombian authorities boarded the steamer and arrested passengers, which brought a protest from Captain O'Brien.

THE MATE'S TESTIMONY.

John McCarthy, mate of the City of Mexico, testified that when he shipped he understood the voyage was to Kingston and return. On March 11th, while in the Erie basin, the vessel was loaded with arms and ammunition. Two Spaniards got aboard also. One of them said he was a brother of the revolutionary president of Colombia. During the passage packages of arms became loosened and aroused the suspicions of the crew. The vessel reached Savanilla March 21st. The captain was ashore for four days, and on March 25th 200 officers and men, armed and uniformed, were taken aboard. The steamer sailed at once to Rio Hacha, which was reached next day. Port officers came out to see the ship's papers and were taken prisoners by the soldiers. The steamer was flying the American flag. McCarthy testified that he and the crew objected to that sort of thing, but witness was afraid he would be shot if he interfered seriously. The steamer then cruised down the coast and bore down upon a schooner by order of the general commanding the troops. McCarthy says he notified the firemen and crew of what was being done, and then returned to the general with the American flag in his hand, saying: "We are all American citizens, and we will be d—d if we are going to capture that vessel. It is nothing but piracy." The capture was not made, and the following day the troops disembarked at Savanilla. The seven prisoners taken from the port officer's boat were sent to Barranquilla. They said the United States would have to make reparation. The City of Mexico then proceeded to the town of Del Toro, where she loaded with fruit and returned to New York.

Captain O'Brien was to-day bailed in $2000. The steamship will be libeled by the government.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

FEARFUL TRAGEDY AT NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—A dreadful tragedy was discovered to-day at No. 146 Orange street. When police broke into the house on information that there was something wrong there, they found upon a bed two lifeless bodies, those of Mrs. Amelia Evans, wife of William Evans, a member of the police force, and Casper Wenger, a grocery clerk. In the right side of the woman's head, just above the eye, was an ugly wound, from which the brains protruded. The bullet which caused the death of the man entered the left temple and passed completely through the head. At the inquest this afternoon Evans was arrested. He said in substance that he went home at the usual hour in the morning from his work of watching all night, and went to his wife's bedroom. There he saw her and the man lying on the bed dead, just as they were found. He picked his child up, a baby [illegible], and walked out, locking the door and leaving the key in the lock. He called a servant, Maria Miller, gave the child to her and went out. The servant girl gave such evasive answers that her arrest was ordered. The theory about the killing is that Evans had an inkling of his wife's infidelity, came home in the morning earlier than usual, surprised the pair, and shot them both. [illegible]

This is the first execution that has ever taken place in this county, though six men have suffered death at different times within the last twelve years at the hands of mobs.

GENERAL GRANT'S CONDITION.

NEW YORK, April 24.—General Grant returned to his room from the library where the family and visitors were until 11 o'clock last night. Being somewhat fatigued with his exercise during the day and his mind being still occupied with the subject of family chat during the evening, the general was wakeful until about 1 o'clock, when he fell asleep and slept until 4 o'clock this morning. Less than the usual amount of morphine was administered during the night. It is probable that the general and family will spend the month of July at [illegible] Saratoga, and the month of August, it is thought, will be passed in the Catskills.

At 10 o'clock Dr. Douglass drove up in his coupe, attended by his wife, evidently intending to make a brief visit, but after an examination of the general's throat and owing to the patient's condition he concluded to stay all night. The general is now feeling very restless.

FRANCE SUSPENDS OFFICIAL RELATIONS WITH EGYPT.

CAIRO (via Paris), April 24.—M. Barrere, consul general of France to Egypt, has been instructed by his government to suspend all official relations with Egypt and make a declaration to the government of Egypt that France declines to sanction the Egyptian financial convention and reserves to herself complete liberty of action.

EGYPT WILL APOLOGIZE.

CAIRO, April 24.—M. Barrere has delayed his departure from Cairo. It is stated Egypt now offers to compromise the dispute with France concerning the suppression of the Bosphore Egyptien by making an apology and by admitting the officials violated the right of domicile of the publishers. The apology, however, is said to contain no allusion to the seizure of the paper.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA UNITE.

PARIS, April 24.—The breaking off of official relations between France and Egypt, announcement of which rupture was made here this morning in a dispatch from Cairo, was entirely unexpected by the people, and the news has created a great sensation. This act of France is considered unmistakable evidence that there is an understanding between France and Russia.

A STATEMENT CORRECTED.

LONDON, April 24.—In the house of commons this afternoon Gladstone announced that the French consul general left Cairo to-day.

Gladstone's announcement to the house of commons that Barrere, French consul general, had left Cairo was corrected at the foreign office, where it is explained that the premier's statement was based on the translation of a cipher dispatch to the government which has since been found to have been erroneous. The foreign office announces that the government have no information that Barrere has departed from Cairo.

EGYPTIAN SECURITIES FALL.

LONDON, April 24—3 P. M.—Telegrams from Egypt touching the Franco-Egyptian relations have an unfavorable effect on Egyptian securities. Egyptian unified bonds, which opened this morning at 60¾, have fallen to [illegible].

STRONG OPPOSITION.

LONDON, April 24.—Earl Granville has telegraphed instructions to Sir Evelyn Baring, British minister to Egypt, to support Nubar Pasha to the utmost extremity in his refusal to make apologies or explanation for the suppression of Le Bosphore Egyptien.

ALEXANDRIA EXCITED.

ALEXANDRIA, April 24.—Great excitement prevails here over the Franco-Egyptian situation.

THE AFGHAN DISPUTE.

LONDON STOCK BOARD.

LONDON, April 24—12:30 P. M.—Consols opened at [illegible] for both accounts and continue steady. This is one-sixteenth below close last night. Russian securities quoted at [illegible].

1 P. M.—Consols have advanced to [illegible] for both.

1:30 P. M.—Consols [illegible] for both. Russian securities 8[illegible].

COMMUNICATION BROKEN.

LONDON, April 24.—The telegraph line between Meshed and Teheran in Persia is broken. Sir Peter Lumsden is thus prevented from communicating direct with London.

WILL NOT BUILD RUSSIAN GUNS.

LONDON, April 24.—The Armstrong works at Newcastle, having received an order from Russia for a large quantity of war material, declined to fill it and have given notice to the British admiralty of the nature of the order.

WILL ANSWER NO MORE QUESTIONS.

In the house of commons this afternoon Mr. Labouchere and Mr. Richard, both radicals, asked whether or not the government, before deciding to go to war with Russia, would seek the offices of friendly powers to obtain a settlement. Gladstone replied that never during the present correspondence with Russia on the discussion of the serious questions at present before parliament had the government said anything in prejudice of the idea advanced by the questioners. As, however, every answer made by the government to interrogatories put in the house of commons was an announcement to Russia, the government, Gladstone said, had decided it was neither advisable nor convenient to make declaration to Russia through parliament.

GLADSTONE MAKES AN APPEAL.

LONDON, April 24.—In the house of lords this afternoon the Egyptian loan bill passed in committee without amendment.

In the lobbies of the house of commons this afternoon it was said Gladstone, pale and agitated, made an almost pathetic appeal to members of parliament not to press upon the government questions concerning the situation in Egypt or the condition of correspondence with Russia upon the Afghan boundary and the collision of Russian and Afghan troops. Mr. Gladstone, it was claimed, was evidently much disturbed by the news from Cairo this morning of the rupture by France of her relations with Egypt.

CAN HOLD HERAT.

Dispatches from Cabul state that the ameer of Afghanistan has reiterated his statement that he is competent to defend Herat against Russia without the aid of England.

FROM THE FRONTIER.

A dispatch from Tirpul states that postal communication with India has been broken by heavy floods in the Afghan valleys. The weather on the frontier is fine and the health is good.

NAVAL OFFICERS ORDERED TO SERVE.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—It is stated here that naval officers who have been retired on half pay have been ordered upon the active list pending the issue in controversy between England and Russia.

RUSSIAN TROOPS ADVANCING.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—It is reported that Russian troops are advancing upon Tirpul.

NAVAL CIRCLES EXCITED.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—Naval circles are at a fever heat over the reported presence of a British ironclad at Vladivostock, Russian port on the sea of Japan.

LOOKING FOR RUSSIAN MEN-OF-WAR.

LONDON, April 24.—Naval authorities here are on the lookout for five Russian men-of-war which passed through the Gulf of Aden from the Red sea to the Indian ocean last week. The harbor of [illegible] is being fortified to resist Russian attacks. A number of steam launches have been purchased and fitted with torpedoes, and heavy guns have been mounted on the shore in a position to command the ship channels.

ORDERED TO THEIR POSTS.

NICE, April 24.—Russian officers here on a furlough have been ordered to return to their posts immediately.

THE SITUATION AT ST. PETERSBURG.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Herald says: In St. Petersburg, as in Pekin, there is a war party and a peace party. That Degiers heads the peace party, and Pabedonseff the war party. If the counsels of Degiers prevail to-day, and those of Pebedonseff prevail to-morrow, a word from Prince Bismarck may give victory to Degiers, or an aggression of General Komaroff may give victory to Pabedonseff. The sword hangs by a hair.

SOUTH AMERICA.

THE GOVERNMENT VICTORIOUS.

PANAMA (via Galveston), April 24.—This morning strong barricades were being erected in the street near the cable company's office, which would have cut off communication had not the same been summarily removed, as the cable office is situated in that part of town near the battery and quarters. Seven hundred troops left Buena Ventura and General Vila this morning at 4 o'clock, being carried on the Colombian gunboat Boyaca, and on a schooner towed by a canal company's tug boat. An attack would have taken place immediately on the arrival of these troops [illegible] Monday morning, but at half past [illegible] this afternoon the United States forces appeared on the scene as if by magic, three taps of a drum being the signal by which they started. Three columns entered the city and had full possession in about ten minutes, knocking down the barricades as they passed through the streets. At the call of the bugle the Colombian guards withdrew into the quarters. This splendid coup de main has undoubtedly prevented another disaster similar to that at Colon.

AMERICANS DRIVE AWAY THE INSURGENTS.

PANAMA (via Galveston), April 24.—This afternoon, while a strong barricade was being erected, entirely enclosing the Central and South American cable office, and great preparations were being made for a fight, Americans arrived and knocked down the barricades and took charge of the town. The insurgents were recalled to their barracks by bugle.

MEXICO.

APACHES ON THE WARPATH.

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—A special from San Jose, Chihuahua, Mexico, to the Globe-Democrat says there can be no doubt but the Apaches are again on the warpath in the Sierra Madre mountains. On Monday last a band of sixty of them attacked a few Mexicans at Pena Blanc and killed Odongo and Leon Rica. A courier was at once sent from the Carnaltos mine to the governor to notify him of the raid and tell him there were no troops in that locality. The entire surrounding country is aroused and in arms. There has also been a large number of cattle stolen by the Indians.

THE RIEL REBELLION.

Middleton's Forces Attack the Rebels, and a Battle is being Fought.

CLARK'S CROSSING, April 24.—Middleton's force advanced yesterday in two divisions, on either side of the river, and expect to reach Batouche to-morrow. It is thought that Riel's forces will probably be met a few miles this side of Batouche, and that there may be an engagement to-morrow. A Calgarry dispatch of to-day states that scouts returning to-day report that no hostile Indians have been seen since those reported a few days since.

A BATTLE PROGRESSING.

A messenger just returned from the north brings the following particulars of an engagement with the rebels which occurred at 9:15 A. M., fifteen miles south of Batouche. The insurgents had taken ground on the edge of a deep ravine, from which they poured a deadly fire into the advancing column. When the messenger left the fight was still raging. Three houses of the enemy had been shelled, and many rebels driven from them took refuge in the ravine. Indian allies of the rebels fought vigorously, in Indian fashion. The whole number in the ravine is estimated at 300. Middleton's hat was shot through, but he escaped uninjured. Captain Wise's horse was shot from under him. The ravine was entirely surrounded and there is no possibility that the rebels will escape. The Tenth royals from the west bank had just arrived as the messenger was leaving. The casualties were three killed and ten or fifteen wounded.

12:30 P. M.—Several others were wounded, but have not been brought in yet. One party of the rebels has just been dislodged. The artillery is still shelling the rebels in the ravine. Several Indian ponies were captured. The rebel loss is not yet known. The Indians set the prairie on fire, but a heavy hail storm extinguished it.

DISPATCHES FROM BATTLEFORD.

WINNIPEG, April 24.—A detachment of Otto's force camped across Battle river from Battleford last night, and the garrison is much relieved. Battleford dispatches state that the remainder of the force was only a short distance behind, and that when it arrived the valley was scoured by mounted police, who report that Indians and half breeds had evidently fled at the approach of troops.

Another Battleford dispatch, in the course of an account of the Fort Pitt fight, says that before the firing commenced Factor McLean of the Hudson Bay Company had a parley with Big Bear, who assured him it was the intention of the Indians to kill the police, and that civilians might leave the fort in safety. Anxious for the women and children, McLean accepted Big Bear's terms and left with about fifty civilians of all ages, who are now with the Indians. The remainder of the garrison, outnumbered by the enemy, retreated down the river on a scow, taking the guns and ammunition of the fort with them.

EXCITEMENT AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 24.—The receipt of a press dispatch announcing a battle between General Middleton's advanced detachment and the rebels caused great excitement in the house. Members rushed excitedly about the corridors and besieged the telegraph office for information. The debate on the franchise bill for a time was interrupted by the excitement which prevailed. The government has as yet received no information regarding the fight.

ENGLAND.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

LONDON, April 24.—There was a stormy discussion in the house of commons this evening over the bill for registration of voters in Ireland. Colonel John P. Nolan, home rule member of Galway county, moved to amend the bill by providing that charges for registration be provided by the general government, and not be defrayed by local rates. Mr. Gladstone vigorously opposed the amendment and drew a gloomy picture of its possible results. Mr. Childers, chancellor of the exchequer, implored the Irish members to have patience, and showed that their proposal would cause an additional burden upon the taxpayers of £130,000. Colonel Nolan, however, was obdurate, and the amendment was defeated by a vote of 82 to 56. After the announcement of the vote Mr. Gladstone adjourned the debate, in order that the government might consider the question.

MEETING OF LAND OWNERS.

LONDON, April 24.—At a great meeting of rich and influential landowners held in this city to-day, and attended by such persons as the Duke of Argyle, Earl Carnarvon and the Marquis of Ripon, it was resolved to take steps for the immediate formation of a large corporation, to be called the "National Land Company," for the purpose of securing the gradual breaking up of the large parcel system of land ownership now injuriously prevalent in Great Britain. The present plan of new organization is to buy up land at wholesale and sell it out in lots not to exceed forty acres, under conditions likely to cause further sub-division, and prevent aggregation of title. The company will, in all likelihood, buy for cash and sell on deferred payments covering at least ten years.

THE ADMIRALTY HOUSE EXPLOSION.

LONDON, April 24.—Mr. Swainson was severely wounded by the explosion at the admiralty office yesterday, but continues to make favorable progress. Detectives have obtained little evidence likely to afford a clue to the perpetrators of the outrage.

THE SOUDAN.

REPORTED VICTORY FOR EL MAHDI.

SUAKIM, April 24.—The French newspaper, the Courier, publishes to-day a special dispatch, which states that El Mahdi's men have attacked and defeated the Italian forces near Massowah. The Italian consul has no knowledge of the affair reported by the Courier.

THE SUAKIM ROUTE.

SUAKIM, April 24.—The Suakim-Berber railway has been extended three miles beyond Handoub. A force of 500 of the enemy was discovered between Tambouk and Essible. Troops are daily engaged in scouting expeditions.

IRELAND.

THE PRINCE AT BELFAST.

BELFAST, April 24.—The Prince and Princess of Wales landed from the royal yacht to-day. Notwithstanding rain was falling steadily, vast crowds assembled to welcome the royal visitors and much enthusiasm prevailed.

FRANCE.

A MURDERER GUILLOTINED.

PARIS, April 24.—Abbe Ganahal was executed by the guillotine this morning for the murder last fall of Madame Ballerich.

CANADA.

INDIANS LEAVING BATTLEFORD.

WINNIPEG, April 24.—Herchelmer's advance relief column of mounted police has reached Battleford and the Indians are leaving.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Mrs. Burton, wife of the well known traveler, has always averred that since England took the Koh-i-noor diamond, proverbial for the ill-luck it brings, nothing but disaster has attended all concerning British India.

The opponents of prohibition in Michigan claim that the recent election in that state proved decisively that the people are opposed to an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor and in favor of the license system.

It is claimed that a careful analysis of the vote cast in the recent municipal elections in Ohio shows that the prohibitionists worked with the democrats against the republicans. This was particularly noticeable in Columbus, Dayton, Youngstown, Springfield and other interior cities.

The Boston Post says that "barring accidents, this country will be in democratic hands for the next fifty years or more." This was precisely the length of time that Disraeli asserted that the conservative party would remain in power in England.

The Ohio court of common pleas holds that a saloonkeeper cannot recover taxes paid under the Scott liquor law after the supreme court had declared the law constitutional and before the court reversed its decision. This decision affects every county in the state, as taxes were collected everywhere under the law during the time that the court sustained, the money has been used, and special taxes would have to be raised should the court order the collections refunded.

Here is an advertisement taken from a recent issue of The London Court Journal, which suggests that in the matter of shrewd advertising the English can easily hold their own: "To ladies going into mourning through the unfortunate war in the Soudan, having their wardrobes to dispose of, Mrs. [illegible] would feel honored by their patronage. Furniture, carriages, jewelry and plate bought. Money sent the same day for country parcels. Newest Dorset square, N. W. No post cards."

The phenomenal growth of the Wyoming Stock Growers' Association is suggestive of the vast importance of the cattle interests of this country. Twelve years ago this association was organized with ten members, owning 20,000 head of cattle, valued at $350,000. To-day it has 445 members, owning 2,000,000 head of cattle, whose estimated value is $100,000,000. Its sway extends over the whole of Wyoming, to portions of six other states and territories, and it is without doubt the largest association of the kind in the world.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 25, 1885

WHEAT AND WAR

A writer in the New York Tribune, handling statistics of wheat production, consumption and export, reaches the conclusion that there will be left in the United States on the 1st of July next 120,000,000 bushels of wheat of the old crop, some of which has been brought over from the year 1883. Estimates of the harvest of the present year based on reports of the condition of growing wheat, cannot yet be regarded as very trustworthy, but it may be stated that they indicate so far a considerably smaller total than that of last year. Put the reduction at 20 per cent, and the crop of the present year would be about 415,000,000 bushels. Add 120,000,000 bushels left over and there would be a total of 535,000,000 bushels, against a home consumption not exceeding 315,000,000. This would leave the prodigious total of 220,000,000 bushels for export. If these estimates are not out of all bounds of probability, wheat, even in case of war between England and Russia, may not go up to the prices which wheat-producers like ourselves would be glad to see it attain.

It is to be borne in mind, also, that France and Germany are buying foreign grain more freely last year than heretofore. France has imposed a duty of 3 francs, and Germany a duty of 30 marks per 100 hundred kilos, which, at the official valuation of the franc and mark, would be 15.7 cents a bushel in France, and 19.4 cents a bushel in Germany. At the same time Austria and Spain are moving in the same direction. In 1884 this country sent 10,911,497 bushels wheat to France, and 3,570,368 to Germany, and the loss of these exports will in part balance any gain to us from the curtailment of Russian exports, in case of war. Large purchases have been made by France and Germany, in anticipation of the new duties, and it is therefore to be expected that the demand from those countries will be small, at least until after the next crop has been so far marketed that the quantity is well known. As yet the demand from Great Britain has not been very great, although the possibilities of war have been clearly visible. Again, as THE OREGONIAN has heretofore remarked, while war will mean suppression of Russian exports by sea, it will not mean their suppression by rail. Heretofore the rail exports have been considerable, and they will doubtless be increased if shipments by sea are interrupted.

If these statements are well founded a European war may not at once cause so great an advance in the price of wheat as many anticipated, though beyond doubt it would improve the market. Continuance of war beyond one year would probably lead to very considerable enhancement of prices, but wars in these times move with so much celerity and have become so expensive that one year of war is about as exhaustive as ten years of war formerly were, and often more fruitful in results.

Robert Toombs of Georgia is quoted as saying: "The greatest vice to which the human family is addicted is gambling, and yet do you know there isn't a word in the bible in condemnation of it. There is nothing in the ten commandments, nothing in the sermon on the mount, nothing anywhere in the bible against the passion that leads to more sins than almost any other." As far as the exact language of the bible is concerned the general is right. The ten commandments do not say "Thou shalt not bet," and the sermon on the mount contains not a single reference to faro or roulette, still the scriptures are full of passages upon which a sermon against gambling can be based.

A special agent of the czar of Russia has been visiting San Francisco, and is now on his way to Alaska upon a mission connected with the relations between the Alaska commercial company and the Russian government. It appears that in 1870 the fur monopoly, not content with the possessions held under contract with the United States, secured a twenty years' lease of Behring and other islands from Russia. A strong opposition party has sprung up in St. Petersburg against renewing the lease, which grants the company the right to kill 40,000 seals per annum, and the czar has appointed a commissioner to investigate the matter.

Russia has, it is estimated, 14,000 square miles of oil producing territory, but the field at Baku is the only one worked, and this covers a space of three and a half square miles only. The output is enormous. A gentleman who witnessed the opening of one well says a column of oil spurted up to the height of 100 feet, carrying big stones with it, and that it continued flowing till a large lake of petroleum was formed. The product is refined on the spot, the residue being used as fuel for steamers on the Caspian and on many of the Russian railways.

A letter from Washington states that applicants for office are still throwing the corridors of the White house and the departments every day. Some of them are reduced to a state of despair and many are in actual distress, being left without funds with which to return to their homes. The result is that democratic members and those who have been successful in securing appointments are daily appealed to by the disappointed and needy applicants for contributions of money with which to return to their homes.

CANADIAN PACIFIC R. R.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

For some unaccountable reason false reports continue to circulate against the Canadian Pacific Railroad, the latest being the following from your issue of this morning:

Big Strike on the Canadian Pacific.

Victoria, April 14.—Reports from the interior state that 5000 employes of the Canadian Pacific Railway have gone on a strike, on account of not receiving their wages.

This was the cause of a large number of men refusing to proceed to the road this morning. I telegraphed to Mr. Onderdonk, asking if it was true. The following is his reply:

Yale, April 15—8:45 P. M.—R. D. Pitt, Portland: No strike whatever. Report utterly without foundation. A. ONDERDONK.

I have only to repeat that every man sent from this office is sure of work at fair wages, good accommodations and cash payments every month. R. D. PITT.

Since the publication of the above the following has been received:

Yale, B. C., April 15.

R. D. Pitt, Esq., Portland, Or.: Dear Sir: In reply to your wire of this date I immediately wired, "No strike whatever; the report utterly without foundation." I understand there is a strike or some trouble on the eastern end of this road, east of the Rocky Mountains, but you know that work is entirely distinct from mine. Send me rockmen and laborers.

Yours truly, A. ONDERDONK.

CANADIAN PACIFIC R. R.

Wanted immediately, by order of the contractor—Rockmen and laborers; good accommodations, certain work, half fare provided from Portland. Men must register on or before every Friday and Tuesday at No. 9 Washington street.

OREGON SHORT LINE—SHOSHONE FALLS

Unlike some other railroads the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific presents more than one great attraction. In addition to Yellowstone National Park, the peaks and canyons of Colorado, Great Salt Lake, and a score of lesser tourist resorts, it invites attention to the western rival of Niagara Falls, a cataract 250 feet in height whose waters make a final perpendicular descent of [illegible] feet. Over this precipice plunges the entire volume of the Snake river, a stream rising in Yellowstone Park and gathering the waters of numerous large tributaries finally emptying itself into the great Columbia river. The volume of water is not so great as that of Niagara river but the falls are higher. The canyon in which the falls are found is also a marvel to sight-seers, and two miles above the Great Falls are the Twin Falls, not so grand and impressive but even more attractive in appearance and surroundings. Hotel accommodations and boats are found at the Falls which are twenty-five miles from Shoshone station on the Oregon Short Line division of [illegible] Union Pacific railway. Daily stages run from Shoshone to the Great Falls and fare for the round trip is [illegible]. Full information including maps, guides, etc. obtained free upon [illegible]

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

CAR LOAD OF SHAD COMING.—Yesterday Mr Donald Macleay, president of the Board of Trade received advice from Hon. Spencer F. Baird, United States fish commissioner, that a car load of young shad would be sent from Washington by the department to Oregon. The car will leave about May 1. It has been decided to place the fish in the Willamette river near Salem, where they are not likely to meet so many enemies as they would if turned into the Columbia. Those familiar with the habits of shad in the larger rivers of the United States which empty into the Atlantic are of the opinion that the Willamette offers a home equal to the best. It is likely that some of the shad will be distributed in [illegible] to those who are likely to make proper use of them. The shad, which is accounted by epicures one of the finest of food fishes, is not a native of the Pacific ocean. Several years since a lot of young ones were placed in the Sacramento river by the U. S. fish commission, and they are now quite plentiful there and have attained their full size, weighing from five to six pounds. A few of these fish have strayed off up the coast, and small numbers have been taken in the Columbia for three or four years past, and a few specimens have even reached the Sound, but no full grown ones have been taken in this section yet. The shad fishery is of great importance on the Atlantic coast. The fish come up from the south in the spring and enter the rivers along the coast to spawn. Vast quantities are taken in the rivers of the Carolinas, in the Potomac, Susquehanna and Hudson, and in the Bay of Fundy. The shad is a very fat, fine flavored fish, and notwithstanding that they contain more than a fair allowance of small bones, are highly esteemed wherever found. Their introduction to our waters will prove a great and permanent benefit to the state.

IDENTIFIED BY HIS PHOTOGRAPH.—The case of Keyes & Sykes vs. John Mooney was tried in department No. 1 of the state circuit court yesterday. It appears that Mr. Mooney, who is captain of Company F, O. N. M., was at one time a resident of the state of Michigan, and that Keyes & Sykes secured a judgment against him in the state circuit there for $155.9[illegible]. Mooney came to this coast and some time after revisited Michigan, when Keyes & Sykes found out where he had taken up his residence and accordingly sent their claim, swelled by interest and costs to $[illegible]7, out here to be collected. Captain Mooney denied the debt and claimed that it was another Mooney altogether. A long roll of depositions was sent out here from Michigan to be used as evidence. Yesterday A. F. Sears, Jr., Mooney's counsel, was looking over these depositions in court, his client sitting by him and making running comments upon the mendacity of the statements contained therein, and asserting that they referred to another Mooney entirely, when upon turning over a leaf a photograph of Captain Mooney in his regimentals stared him in the face and seemed to gaze reproachfully at him. Accompanying the photograph were sworn statements that it was the picture of the Mooney against whom the judgment was obtained. This disagreeable little incident created considerable amusement for all present except Mooney, who, like the boy in the anecdote, had nothing to say. However, the case was decided in favor of Mooney, the depositions not being admitted in evidence, owing to the counsel for plaintiff not being able to prove a seal or some such trifling technicality. It is probable the case will be appealed.

FALL OF A DERRICK.—About half past one yesterday afternoon an accident, fortunately without injury to person, occurred at the new High school building on Twelfth street. The force of carpenters had hoisted a stick of timber 10x12, and 72 feet long nearly to the top of the derrick which was located on top of the tower. Through insecure fastening, one of the guy ropes attached to the derrick gave way causing it to lean too far over. In this position the derrick could not support the very heavy weight of the beam in transit and snapped like a pipe stem. Down came the whole works, a distance of nearly seventy-five feet. The beam struck the front steps and broke into three pieces; several lines parted; a good deal of staging which had just been put up on the outside of the building was torn down and a number of bricks near the top of the tower were knocked out. Of course the crash was tremendous, and the whole neighborhood rushed to the scene. Though thirty men engaged in the work were within "reaching distance" of harm, not one received a scratch. After the excitement on the ground had in a measure subsided, some one happened to think of the man on the tower, and shouted, "All right up there?" "Aye, aye, sir," came the response and everybody breathed freer. The report of the accident spread and, of course, grew in extent, and all day long people visited the building, each expressing astonishment that there had been no bodily harm.

CREATED A DISTURBANCE.—W. A. Taylor and Charles M. Oglesby, two young men who stop at the Oak lodging house, were arrested last evening by Policeman Arnold for creating a disturbance. They look like unsophisticated rustics. Taylor was badly beaten and said that he and Oglesby had been drinking beer up at the U. S. brewery, on Water street, and when they came out some fellows jumped on him and gave him an awful beating. There were three pistol shots fired during the melee, but no one seems to know by whom. Taylor insisted that he had been shot and robbed of $85, but as he seemed to have more beer than brains in his head, his statement was not believed. This is the second alleged outrage committed last evening, and it looks as if our policemen were going to have something to do once more. If a few respectable citizens could be garroted every evening for awhile a spirit of activity would be infused into the force which would be very beneficial. Of course this would be rough on the respectable citizens but they might stand it for the benefit of the police. Now as a doctor is not expected to take his own medicine a reporter must not be expected to adopt what he advises and if any garroter lays his hand upon the writer he must expect to have a hole blown through him big enough to toss a sack of wool through.

REPORTED GARROTING.—C. C. Cantrell complained at the police office about 10 o'clock last evening that he had been garroted and robbed on Taylor street near Fifth. It seems that about 6 o'clock in the evening he had collected $75 for rent and as it was too late to turn it in at the office of Ed Bingham he put it his pockets. He placed $50 in his front pantaloons pocket and $25 in his hip pocket. Where he spent the evening is not known, but just before 10 o'clock he started for his room at Fourth and Taylor, going around by the postoffice to drop a note to Mr Bingham to say that he was not feeling well. He then went up Fifth street and turned down Taylor, when two men jumped out from the doorway of Goddard & Fraser's stable, one of whom pulled his hat over his eyes and held his hands behind his back, while the other abstracted the $50 from his pockets. He called for help and when the robber had secured the coin, his partner threw Cantrell into the gutter and they ran [illegible] Fourth street and up town [illegible] It has been some time since we have had such a story as this to publish and it was thought that the garroters had left town. Investigation will probably throw some new light on this matter.

COMPLICATED CASE OF LARCENY.—M. S. Hanckel, of Umatilla county, has been held to answer for stealing lumber from the Umatilla reservation. Some time since one Berkley was arrested for cutting timber on the reservation and fined $800, which he paid. He had cut the timber into boards at his mill, and he surrendered this also. The Indian commissioner ordered it sold and the proceeds divided among the Indians. Hanckel went to Berkley and offered to take away the lumber and give him one third. So Berkley gave Hanckel a paper conveying his right to the lumber, which was no right at all. Hanckel took away the lumber and was arrested for stealing it. He was examined and held to answer by Fred Page-Tustin of Pendleton, and will be tried before Judge Deady. Berkley has also been arrested, but just what will be done with him has not been decided.

FINE OUTLOOK ALL ROUND.—A prominent cattle man of this city says, now that the cattle ranges of eastern Oregon have been thoroughly examined, it is found that the loss by the severe storm of last winter is very small. A party of herders in a five days' ride over the ranges on the Deschutes saw only four dead cattle. Stock is plenty, grass is good and the demand from eastern cattle buyers liberal. There will be an immense clip of wool, fruit and vegetables of all kinds promise a great yield and the grain crop bids fair to be the best ever known. [illegible] the outlook is very promising for [illegible] [illegible] this season. The cry of hard times [illegible] be raised in Oregon.

ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.—Upon complaint of W. B. W[illegible] and Frank Payne, W. [illegible] Underhill of East Portland was arrested and arraigned before Justice Coleman yesterday on the charge of embezzlement, and gave bonds in $150 to appear for examination on Monday next. Complainants were [illegible] and as agent of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Company and were called upon to pay $[illegible]5 which the latter failed to account for. The matter has been pending since December last, in the hope of amicable settlement, but the proceeding instituted indicate that time and leniency were of no avail for the purpose stated.

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.—This will be a gala day among the Odd Fellows of Portland, East Portland and surrounding towns, and as the weather promises to be fine, there will be a splendid parade. Two bands have been engaged—the Fourteenth infantry from Vancouver and the East Portland organization. Last night a most enthusiastic meeting of Hassalo lodge was held, the following grand lodge officers being present: J. J. Walton of Eugene, grand master; W. [illegible] Tweedale of Albany, deputy grand master, and R. Alexander of Pendleton, grand warden. Odd Fellows' temple was handsomely decorated yesterday with festoons of evergreens, entwined with festoons of red and white and of pink and blue, presenting a beautiful appearance. The ball at night in the Mechanics' pavilion will be a brilliant affair. Whatever surplus of money there may be will go to the Odd Fellows' orphans' home. For the benefit of those who may have overlooked it yesterday, the line of march is published again: Down First to Stark, up Stark to Fourth, down Fourth to B, down B to First, up First to Market, up Market to Third, down Third to the city plaza. The procession will move at 1:30 P. M.

RAN INTO A STREET CAR.—As a car of the Multnomah street railway company had reached the end of its run on B street, about [illegible] o'clock yesterday afternoon, the driver as usual unhitched his team and started them around to the other end of the car. Just then a piece of white paper was blown under their noses and they started to run. The driver hung on to the lines as long as he could keep his feet, but had to let go. Down the street came the team at a furious pace, and they kept the track. There was plenty of room at either side but like some shipmasters that can be recalled, they chose their own course. The driver of the west bound car when he reached Nineteenth street saw the runaway team, hastily unhitched his horses and got them to one side, set the brakes tight and asked the passengers, about ten in number, to alight, which they did in short order. The runaways did not once leave the track, and struck the car with full force, raising the forward end several feet. One of the horses struck the platform with his breast and was instantly killed. The other animal was not much hurt.

SUES A GUARDIAN FOR MONEY.—[illegible] Weber yesterday commenced suit in the state circuit court against Hattie M. Raleigh, as guardian of the estate of Eugene LaRocque, and Eugene LaRocque to recover the sum of $[illegible]. This amount is alleged to be due for money loaned young LaRocque, who assigned this sum to Weber out of a legacy left him by his father, and also gave Weber an order on J. T. Apperson, executor of his father's estate, for the money. Apperson received notice of said assignment, but refused to pay Weber the money. On March [illegible] young LaRocque was adjudged a spendthrift by the county court of Multnomah county and Hattie M. Raleigh appointed his guardian. Whereupon Weber prays for a decree of the court instructing her to pay him the above sum out of the money belonging to LaRocque.

ARE THE BARRELS DUTIABLE?—The case of Myer, Wilson & Co. vs. E. N. Shurtleff, collector of customs, came up in the U. S. court yesterday for argument on a demurrer to the complaint. The case is brought to recover duties alleged to be illegally collected and involves a somewhat novel and intricate point of law. Plaintiff received here 1071 tons of cement in barrels on which there is an ad valorem duty of 25 per cent. The barrels in which the cement was packed cost $1500, and plaintiffs claim that no duty should be charged on this, but only on the net cost of the cement. The defendant thinks that as the cement is bought and sold in the barrels and could not be shipped without the barrels, duty should be paid upon them as well as the cement. The decision will be of much interest to the mercantile community.

MAN AND HORSE KILLED.—A singular accident with fatal results occurred Tuesday, the 21st inst., on the government jetty at the entrance to Yaquina bay. The victim was Porter Patterson, a young man employed to drive a horse attached to a car used in hauling stone along a tramway. In some manner which will never be explained, Patterson fell off the car and the tramway, but did not lose his hold of the lines. In the fall the horse was thrown down, and he began kicking violently. He knocked from the car a heavy stone, which fell on Patterson's breast, crushing in the ribs and inflicting such injuries that the poor man died four hours later. He leaves no relatives except a sister, he being her only support. The horse struggled for some time, but finally fell off the tramway and broke his neck.

SECURED HIS GAMBLING STAKES.—In the state circuit court yesterday in the case of R. F. Bybee, assignee of G. W. Brady, vs. Chief of Police Parrish, a verdict was returned in favor of the plaintiff. The suit was brought to recover $164 and a diamond ring which were Weber's stakes in a game of poker with Brady. A row occurred over the game resulting in the arrest of the parties and Chief of Police Parrish taking charge of the stakes. Brady's share of the stakes was returned to him, and as he claimed to have been the winner in the game, he claimed the whole. He assigned his claim to Bybee, who brought suit against Chief Parrish for the money and ring which Weber had staked on the game. The decision will probably be appealed from.

DID NOT RECOVER THE DEPOSIT.—Some time since Ellis G. Hughes applied to the supreme court of the United States for a writ of mandamus requiring Judge Deady to pay over to him the sum of $500 which had been deposited in the registry of the U. S. court by order of Judge Deady, "to be disposed of or applied hereafter as the rights of the parties to the suit in which it was collected may require." The case was argued and submitted on March 31st, John H. Mitchell appearing for the petitioner and Joseph N. Dolph for the respondent. On April 6th the case was decided and the petitioner Hughes denied the writ he asked. The opinion delivered by Chief Justice Waite will be published by the OREGONIAN in a day or two.

AGROUND AGAIN.—The ship British Monarch reported yesterday as having floated off from Martin's Island bar stuck again on Walker's Island. Parties who came up river yesterday report her lying across the channel at [illegible] considerably. Two tugs and a barge were lying alongside of her, and it is probable she will speedily be lightened and pulled off. It is not safe in the present low stage of water in the Columbia to load vessels down so heavily. The Columbia is falling rapidly and as the Monarch was drawing [illegible] feet of water it is not to be wondered at that she touched bottom. A short spell of warm weather will bring the Columbia up again, and after that there will be no trouble about bars.

"BOSS" SCHENCK'S APPOINTMENT.—The appointment of C. S. Schenck, better known as "Boss" Schenck, as appraiser of customs at this port is the first recognition Oregon democracy has met at the hands of the new administration. John P. Ward, the present incumbent, tendered his resignation about two weeks ago to take effect May 1. The news of Mr. Schenck's appointment, which reached him through the OREGONIAN yesterday evening, and soon spread, created more comment among democratic politicians around town and more glee than anything else that has occurred since the November election. They think now that perseverance, patience and sweet oil will fetch the offices after all.

STREET-SWEEPING NUISANCE.—The practice of street sweeping during business hours, has proved to be such a nuisance to business men and pedestrians, that this journal respectfully calls the attention of the gentleman in charge and requests that either the streets be sprinkled before sweeping begins or the same be postponed until after business hours. The clouds of dust that arise have become such an intolerable nuisance that it cannot be endured. In all well regulated cities streets sweeping and the removal of ashes from buildings is done [illegible] business hours.

RIPE FRUIT.—In the yard of Mrs. S. [illegible] at the corner of Washington and Eighth streets, are some full laden cherry trees, on which the fruit is ripening rapidly. In another week the cherries will be quite ripe. They are already through the leaves in clusters, blushing red. And this on the 25th April, when the frost has not yet left the ground in the states beyond the Rockies. Ripe wild strawberries are [illegible] abundant in many parts of Oregon. Webfoot is ahead on the attractions of climate, at all events.

GOT JUDGMENT FOR NURSING HIS WIFE.—The suit of Isaac Thompson against J. P. Rahilley for services in taking care of the latter's wife during illness, came up for trial in Justice Greene's court yesterday before a jury of three, consisting of T. B. Winters, Fred Rickel and John Sloan. Thompson asked for $[illegible] and the jury gave him $105. Rahilley says he will appeal. If this case were not so disgusting, the thought of a man getting pay for nursing his own wife (Mrs. Rahilley was his wife [illegible]) would be [illegible]

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST EAST PORTLAND.—Suit was commenced in the state circuit court yesterday by J. W. Kern against the city of East Portland and George Linville to recover the sum of $82.12 paid as taxes under compulsion. Plaintiff alleges that the warrant issued by the city and the proceedings by which such warrant was issued are wholly illegal and that he is not delinquent in taxes and does not owe the city of East Portland anything.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR BIDDERS.—Owing to the fact that the specifications for the addition to the county [illegible] did not state explicitly that the lime and cement for the building would be furnished by the county, this was not understood by all the bidders. It was therefore decided by the commissioners not to accept any of the bids received, but to readvertise for bids to be opened next Tuesday at 2 P. M., thus giving all contractors a fair chance to bid on the work understandingly.

THROWN FROM A BUGGY.—While Dr. J. R. Bayley and wife of Corvallis were out riding last Tuesday, near Newport, Yaquina bay, the horse backed from the grade and precipitated both occupants of the buggy to the ground, a distance of several feet. The lady escaped with slight bruises, but Dr. Bayley was thrown heavily, sustaining severe injuries. He had not entirely recovered from an accident at Salem some time since, and his recovery from this second accident will, no doubt, be very slow.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.—Yesterday morning Reuben Thompson, for twenty years a resident of this city, died at his home, No. 128 Sixth street, after an illness of twelve months, aged [illegible] years. He was a native of Pennsylvania and moved here from Springfield, Illinois. He was a just, industrious, unassuming man and a good citizen. The funeral takes place at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

NEW MEMBERS AND OFFICERS.—Last night the high school debating society held an orderly and harmonious meeting. Six new members were admitted as follows: Blanche Hersey, Kate Prideaux, Bert Farrell, Robert Drake, Lyon Warner and Charles Warner. The following officers were elected: Secretary, Sam Connell; treasurer, Ed Misner; sergeant at arms, Frank Slocum.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—Rev. Dr. Lindsley has been suddenly called to Union Ridge to conduct the funeral of a grandchild of Mr. John Gilbert, the father of Wm. B. Gilbert, Esq., of this city. Dr. Lindsley's church, however, will not be closed. A supply for the pulpit will be obtained.

APPOINTED.—The following gentlemen constitute the chapter of St. Stephen's Chapel for the ensuing year: General J. H. Eaton, Messrs. Graham Glass, W. F. Brown, Richard A. Thornton, George Bressell and D. C. Lounsberry.

TO THE THEATERS.—The Lurline will come over this evening from Vancouver with persons desiring to attend the theaters and other amusements. She will leave Vancouver at 6:15 P. M., returning at 11:30 P. M.

JACKSON COUNTY

With Digressions on the California Trade and on the Nomenclature of Southern Oregon

ASHLAND, [illegible] Apr.

[illegible] the middle of a [illegible] upon Ashland and with a statement that the town was not likely to retain its eastern Oregon business when the railroad goes on to its California connection, as it must go before a great while. The [illegible] Ashland gives up its [illegible] of importance greater than that belonging to its situation as a local center at a [illegible] point of small [illegible] the [illegible] will be [illegible]. [illegible] City, Roseburg and Jacksonville have each had a season of great expectations upon the same basis and each in turn has learned the folly of hoping against fate. Their experiences have been bitter and have [illegible] to delay those projects of local enterprise in which there is a real prospect of advantage. The future of none of these towns, Ashland included, can be great. They will grow as the country grows, and prosper as their [illegible] fields prosper. Anything more than this is beyond reasonable expectation, and people who are not satisfied with this prospect should seek a new place to live. And this prospect indeed is quite good enough. The country surrounding any of the towns named is only [illegible] occupied; somewhat less than half tilled. With the increase of population there will be a growth of business and [illegible] of every kind. There is also [illegible] enterprise.

[illegible] the [illegible] why Ashland was so called, unless because it is set in a region of [illegible] the [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] that the [illegible] still [illegible] of his native town of Ashland [illegible]. But the impropriety of the name is matched by very many others throughout this southern country. Ashland, while a [illegible] misnomer, is respectable and convenient, which cannot be said of some others given in the early days with a shallow attempt at wit and now permanently fixed by the usage and custom of many years. Sams valley, Jackass creek, [illegible] creek, Jump-off Joe creek, [illegible] creek, [illegible] are names which reflect positive discredit upon southern Oregon. Just think of the [illegible] of these names. Imagine George Augustus pouring out his passionate sentiments to Cleopatra Jane and having to address them to [illegible], and imagine Cleopatra [illegible] to return her acknowledgments [illegible]. And when Ann Maria's papa [illegible] the attentions of [illegible] Joseph, think of the levity [illegible] pronouncements [illegible]. But to return to the sober aspects of the matter, there is no excuse for these outlandish and half-decent names. There is no kind of excuse for it. Every locality had ready-made an appropriate Indian name, euphonious, easily spelled and suggestive of its local character or of some important fact in its history. To discard these for flippant or second hand names is scarcely less than sacrilege. But southern Oregon is not alone in this kind of vandalism. The state is covered over with names fully matching in impropriety those given above—for example, Amity, Salem, Muddy, Portland and many others. How much better are Tacoma, Seattle, Walla Walla, [illegible] and Spokane in comparison. Nothing so proves intellectual poverty as a want of good names, and the [illegible] fixed to many localities in this state do little credit to the taste or intelligence of those who first applied them.

Ashland is the terminal point of the Oregon and California road, is also the terminus of the freighting business to the south. I think it is not generally known that Portland merchants supply a large trade in the northern counties of California. Yreka, Fort Jones, Etna and several small towns draw a share of their goods from the north and would be glad to deal exclusively with us if they could market their products here. The haul from Ashland to Yreka is fifty miles, just two thirds of the distance between Yreka and Delta, the northern terminus of the California and Oregon road. But until recently the wool product of northern California has gone to San Francisco and the wagons which freighted it into Delta or Redding returned laden with merchandise. Now the freighting haul is in our favor and if the wool of the country can be sold to Portland buyers at the same rates as to San Francisco buyers we will get the general trade of the country. Last year the wool was marketed here, but San Francisco is offering extraordinary [illegible] and we are in danger of losing the business. A little enterprise and co-operation will save it, and these it is to be hoped will not be wanting in anticipation of a reciprocal trade. Portland merchants are already drumming the country for business. I met yesterday Mr Charles Kohn of Kohn Bros, just coming out, and Mr F. I. Harris of Fleckenstein & Meyer and Mr James Friedman of H. Ackerman & Co., just starting in. The railroad company is doing a good deal to encourage the trade by making very cheap rates on all freights destined for Yreka and the towns thereabout. This is an instance where the discrimination so much railed against by Judge Boise and philosophers of his kindred, is an absolute advantage to all parties in interest. It gives the railroad company a traffic over that part of its line which does not pay operating expenses; it gives the merchants of Portland a profitable trade and it gives us the advantage of handling the wool of that section. The stupidity of a reformer who would not permit a discrimination whose only effect is to confer benefits is too apparent for discussion, indeed too dense for anything but contempt.

In the consideration of general matters I have almost forgotten that I am on the soil of Jackson county and that I am expected to report upon it, not to discuss philology or the railroad question. Jackson is one of the southern border counties and is about seventy miles square. Its general character is mountainous, but it has one great central valley, that of the Rogue river, and many smaller ones, [illegible] thousands of hill sides too, are rich in soil and scarcely less valuable for general purposes of cultivation. Like all the other counties of western and southern Oregon, Jackson has long been settled and pretty much all its tillable land has been long taken up. The chief productive business of the county has been gold mining, sheep husbandry being the next in importance. It is estimated that the annual output of gold is in the neighborhood of $600,000 per year and the value of the wool clip something less than one third of that amount. General agriculture has been followed only to the extent of supplying the local demand, not an inconsiderable business when the military post in Klamath county, the mining camps in Jackson and in the adjoining county of Josephine, and the large demands for forage from the stage and freighting lines are considered. Still the farming area of the country has never been worked to half its capacity, there being until now no means of getting any product [illegible] profitably [illegible] to market.

The farmers of Jackson county have been able to produce many things not possible to be grown in any other part of the state. Grapes, peaches, corn and other products of the class requiring a dry, warm climate and only produced in limited quantities and under pressure of extra care in the northern counties, are grown in bountiful luxuriance. The soil is a heavy granite sand on the mountain sides and a loam in the lower valleys.

Southern Oregon is under a warmer sun than western Oregon and its products closely resemble those of California. Its climate, too, bears a close resemblance to that of California, but lacking the ill features of excessive dryness and occasional drouth. Indeed this climate is a happy half way between the dry of California and the wet of western Oregon. There is not, I believe, so good and equable a climate under the sun.

The seasons of southern Oregon are several weeks earlier than ours and in certain protected slopes there is scarcely any winter at all, practically. Vegetables which do not in the Willamette valley come into marketable state till late in May, are here in good supply in early April. The country ought to supply the Portland market with early truck now brought by water from San Francisco and it will soon do so. It has not been possible heretofore owing to the entire lack of other than wagon transportation. But it is from its fruit that southern Oregon will have the greatest profit. Everything grown in the temperate zones is produced here in amazing quantity and of matchless quality. It is a better country for the production of wine grapes than California, and three profitable vineyards at Jacksonville prove that great things may be done in the way of wine making. Southern Oregon, or the greater part of it, is a country [illegible] the greatest profit will result [illegible] on small tracts [illegible] times its present population could be profitably employed [illegible].

About all the immigration now [illegible] the country consists of people [illegible] who have turned westward [illegible] the severe extremes of climate in the states east of the Rocky mountains. The cold winters of the western and middle states are driving out hundreds and thousands. Climate is naturally the first thought with immigrants of this class, and they find in southern Oregon precisely what they most desire—a climate cool enough for comfort in summer, warm enough for comfort in winter, a climate in which a man can work in the open air without inconvenience three hundred days in the year. They find here, too, a community long established and well provided with schools, but not asleep, a country astir with new impulses and eager for new enterprises. They find the conditions of life easy and the rewards of industry sure. The railroad, so long delayed, is making settlement of the country practical. And the old population is making the newcomers welcome. The spirit which prompted the publication of a book recently, setting forth the advantages of the country, is still in the people. It is no wonder the country is filling up. Such a country deserves it.

Jacksonville, the county seat and the most [illegible] of the county, [illegible] perhaps it may [illegible] Ashland was [illegible]. It was passed not from [illegible] but because it was not easy to [illegible]. The town was located as a mining camp [illegible] the convenience of miners, and [illegible] of its possible future as a [illegible] town. The [illegible] passes [illegible] miles to the west. The town has unquestionably suffered [illegible] is in no sense dying. It still has the large local trade it has always had and will I think retain it. The new town of Medford, situated on the railroad at the point nearest Jacksonville, has grown in a few months to be a thriving place of [illegible] but it has not, as many [illegible], robbed Jacksonville of its trade or of its importance as a general center.

The railroad which has come to all sections of this country is running its trains into it at a positive loss. It is not paying running expenses south of Eugene City, and for the section south of Roseburg it does not get in one dollar for every five which it costs to operate it. The road is in excellent condition. All the new part between Roseburg and Ashland is laid with steel rails, and the iron on the old section has been replaced with steel as far south from Portland as Jefferson in Marion county. Of the attitude of the railroad company toward the country and of the country toward the company I will write tomorrow. [illegible]

DECISION BY JUDGE DEADY

In the United States circuit court [illegible], Judge Deady delivered the [illegible] in [illegible] vs. Julia McCa[illegible], [illegible] foreclosure of a mortgage. [illegible] is a synopsis of the decision:

I. The bill alleges among other things that on November [illegible], 1879, Hardin & W. J. McCallister executed [illegible] of 408 acres of land in Marion county, [illegible] Hardin and [illegible] east fork of Pudding river, and that [illegible] day said H & W J McCallister executed and delivered to the plaintiffs a deed of mortgage thereof to secure [illegible] of $[illegible]000 [illegible] H & W J McCallister.

II. The bill was filed September [illegible] and taken [illegible] judgment [illegible] H [illegible] W J McCallister March 20.

III. On Dec [illegible] the defendant [illegible] denying that said H & W J or either of them were the owners of the south half of said premises, and averred that it belonged to her and that she was an ignorant woman unable to read or write.

Admitted that she signed said mortgage, but upon the false and fraudulent representation of the plaintiffs' agent who obtained her signature thereto and acknowledgment that the same did not include her land but only that belonging to her husband.

To this answer there was a general replication and the case was heard and submitted on the pleadings [illegible].

IV. The answer so far as it is responsive to the bill is evidence for the defendant.

[illegible] But if the answer admits a fact alleged in the bill and then insists upon another matter in avoidance thereof, the defendant must prove the matter in avoidance [illegible] his answer. Clarke v. White, 12 Pet. [illegible]; Leighton v. Leighton, Baldwin, [illegible]; Hart v. Phillips, [illegible] Mass. [illegible]; McCoy v. Rhodes, 11 How. [illegible]; Hart v. Ten Eyck, 2 John Ch. 88.

V. Matter of avoidance is something subsequent to, distinct from or dehors the fact admitted.

But if the admission and avoidance constitute one single fact or transaction, the answer is evidence of the whole of it. Hart v. Ten Eyck, 2 John Ch. 88, and note.

VI. The plea of non est factum denies the execution of a deed, puts the fact in issue, and under it you can prove, as [illegible] comprehended in it, that the defendant was imposed upon and put his name to the paper under an erroneous impression as to its character or contents. Van Valkenburg v. Rouk, 12 John [illegible]; Green [illegible]; Chitty's Plead. [illegible]; 2 Phil. Ev. 248.

VII. In the absence of any evidence to overcome it, the answer is sufficient evidence that the defendant did not execute the mortgage, and the bill as to her must be dismissed.

The plaintiff had leave to apply to have the case reinstated with leave to take testimony to prove the execution of the deed.

Ellis G. Hughes for the plaintiff.

PORTLAND'S MIGHTY NIMROD

To see a fellow on a bright spring morning
With a large fox hound of a slumbrous eye
And a slim gun go slowly lounging by,
About to give the feathered bipeds warning
That probably they may be shot hereafter,
Excites in me a quiet kind of laughter;
For though I am no lover of the sport
Of harmless murder, yet it is to me
About the funniest thing on earth to see
A corpulent person breathing with a snort
Go on a shooting frolic all alone,
For well I know that when he's out of town
He and his dog and gun will all lie down
And undestructive sleep till game and light are flown!

"SMARTNESS" ANSWERED

EDITOR OREGONIAN: Dear Sir: As a matter of truth do you not enjoy as much personal happiness now as in the days of the republic, and before you became a citizen of the confederacy?—Albany Democrat.

No sir; nor does any man, unless he is of those who like yourself lamented the abolition of slavery, the overthrow of the rebellion, and the long exclusion of the democratic party from power because of its support of slavery and the rebellion, its sympathy with the confederacy, and the general infamy of its career.

What Mr Dana Did

Omaha Herald

Charles A. Dana should write a book. He is the man who carried the order to Vicksburg to [illegible] General Grant and had the courage after examination of the situation to keep it in his pocket. Mr Dana was then assistant secretary of war.

The surprising success of Mrs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the several diseases peculiar to women forcibly illustrates the importance of her beneficent discovery, and the fact that she knows how to make the most of it.—Dr Haskell.

A MODERN MEDUSA.

BY SAM L. SIMPSON.

[Written for the Sunday Oregonian.]

n the fall of 186[illegible] I made a memorable horse-ck journey from Salem to Albany. I had re-tly been admitted to the bar at the capital d was on my way to the latter place to estab-h myself in the practice. I was alone. It s an ideal day. The hazy gold of the Indian mer shimmered over the world with the lative beauty of a dream. The birds, calling ornfully to each other from the tattered ta-tries of their once delightful halls, were pre-ing for their journey southward, and the lling of the falling leaves seemed like the lling robes of the passing year. Perhaps I ht have read a prophecy and a sign in these ngs, the departing bird and the falling leaf, ch marked the day of my entrance on the e duties of life, but no prophetic shadows l across the azure skies of youth, and I rode my gay and glowing hopes only touched h a sweeter hue by the melancholy of the e.

hose were anti-railroad days, but Albany s even then doing a heavy interior business building up rapidly. Situated on a navigable er and near the center of the richest agricul-l district in the world the brightest antici-ions rainbowed her future, and infused life vigor into every enterprise. The railway, n inaugurating at Portland, was to work a gic change and build the little city at once ond the reach of rivalry.

he locomotive came, with its shriek of ny and roll of thunder, but the hope awak-d by the ringing fanfare of the coachman's n, as he reined his six in hand at a gallop wn the street and round the corner to the toffice in the dim dawns of long ago, have t been fully realized. But in '67 it seemed a peful place for a young lawyer to flaunt his ngle in, and as I walked about the streets on e evening of my arrival I built many an airy tle of coming fame and opulence won in e arena.

ust from college, unused to the bustle of ac-e life, and naturally diffident to a fault, I was w in making the acquaintance of the local mbers of the profession and for a week or led a solitary and pensive life. At last, wever, through the agency of a business man ll-known for years, I was introduced to the gle circle and made my intentions known. y did not clasp me in their arms and wel-e me as a long lost "brother," whose "straw-ry mark" was accepted as a conclusion of law hout display in court. On the contrary, I agined that I was treated in some instances h shadowy slice of cold shoulder in the way intimations that times were dull and the elness overdone, but they did not forbid the e, and I determined to remain.

Wholly inexperienced in court, and having y the standard text-books of the law, it was desire to enter the office of some established orney who had a good working library. I n found that they were all hunting in con-e with one exception, Judge —— whose e is historic in the colonial settlement of oneers. Possessed of a strong, clear mind, rned in the law and endowed with literary ts of no mean order, his efforts for ad-cement have all through life been baffled by fatal gift of sowing dragon's teeth instead the genial seeds of friendship. Unpopular has clothed him like an infectious cloud ough all the long years of his sojourn in egon. This was the reason that he was alone en young attorneys did not wish to be mar-ed by an unlucky connection.

"I will tell you," said Mr. William Gird, lean-across the polished walnut slab that owned a necessary appointment in his place business, "the judge is meaner than a cross-d mule in a hornet's nest, but he's got the test office and the best law library in town. d you will have a comfortable place to read ring the winter and wait for something to n up."

There was sense in that, and I immediately ght and obtained a partnership with the ge, which he granted all the more willingly m the fact that he lived across the river and ld only attend to the office part of the day. d here, en passant, I must say that our rela-s, from first to last, were genial and pleas-

o I began the life of a lawyer, or rather, a student. As I was a stranger and the firm
